DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mullen'357.

The Mullen reference discloses a funnel 1, a mounting device including a first and second clip 10 for clamping the funnel to the opening of a radiator (i.e. the radiator being part of a vehicle).

In regard to claim 5, the functional statement of intended use has been considered but deemed not to impose any structural limitations over the device which is further capable of being clipped to the interior of a hood of a vehicle. As, for example, one could merely attach at least one of the clips to a support web that are conventionally found on the interior of a hood.

In regard to claims 6-9, the method as claimed would be inherent during the normal use and operation of the device.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Cope, Clarke, Jr. and Tate references pertain to funnels with associated supports, and the Fredin et al. reference pertains to an automotive filling tool with structure for attachment to the lid of a fill opening.
